SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB ENTERTAINMENT

The Social Science Club assembled at a dinner given at the Moana Hotel last night in honor of the ladies who had been the hostesses of the club during the past year. The event also bore significance from the fact that it was the twentieth anniversary of the club.

There were, in all, forty-seven persons present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Governor S. B. Dole acted as toastmaster, toasts being responded to by both ladies and gentlemen.

Among the speakers were Mrs. W. O. Smith, Mrs. McCully-Higgins, W. O. Smith, M. M. Scott, S. E. Bishop, T. Clive Davies, Mr. Crum and Theo. Richards.

British and Boers Completed Surrender

London, June 5.—A British general accompanied each commandant for the purpose of bringing in the surrendering commandants.

Commandant Fouché has surrendered in Cape Colony.

Botha and De Wet, replying to Lord Kitchener's speech at Vereeniging, acknowledged that the conduct of the British had been honorable and generous. They promised to serve King Edward as loyally as they would have served Kruger or Steyn.

Commandant Smit went alone to the western Cape districts, where persuading the rebels to surrender may be a delicate task.

NAKANI "RAN AMUCK"

Nakani, a Japanese fisherman living in Kakaako, was arrested last night for "running amuck." It seems that he and a number of companions began a celebration at his place and Nakani got a little bit too much to drink. This made him persona non grata and a number of his companions took occasion to oust him.

It is alleged that Nakani made a rush for the place where his tools were kept and secured a fish cleaning knife which he flourished as he ran back into the room. A couple of women who were seated inside, gave the alarm and there was a break on the part of everyone for the outside.

One of the men did not get away quickly enough and it is alleged that Nakani chased him. Other Japanese, seeing the way things were going, helped their companion, caught Nakani and took the knife away from him. He was arrested later by Officer Robert Parker Jr. The case will come up in the Police Court tomorrow.

HE HAD HIS LICENSE

Manuel Rodriguez, the Portuguese blacksmith who appeared in the Police Court yesterday on the charge of seduction brought about by carelessness in the matter of securing a marriage license, appeared in the Police Court this forenoon with the marriage papers in his hand, the ceremony having taken place at his home last night. On this showing, the case was nolle prosequi.

There is a very funny incident in connection with this case. By way of celebrating the event, Rodriguez bought some ice cream and beer and invited around a number of his friends to partake of the good things. The priest did not arrive as quickly as was consistent with the wishes of the happy groom and as the latter, calling his friends around the festive board, began to celebrate before there was anything to celebrate. When the priest did finally arrive, the beer and ice cream had all disappeared.

S. S. Dickerson of the Mackay cable went to Hilo in the Kinau today. While at that place he will study the situation with a view to running a branch cable there should the business interests of Hilo warrant such a step.

District Attorney R. W. Breckons for the United States and C. W. Ashford for the defendant, in the matter of the seizure of the schooner Kawala for having contraband liquor on board, have submitted the case to Judge Estee on briefs.

Dr. David Starr Jordan of Stanford University will be a through passenger in the Sierra tomorrow on his way to Samoa. He will be joined by Prof. Alfreder and Kellogg, both of the same university.

PANG CHONG FINED HUNDRED DOLLARS

Brooks, in summing up the case, stated that he could not see how the defendant could be found otherwise than guilty. In fact, previous to the trial, he had told his client that he had done wrong. However, he would ask the prosecution to recommend a suspension of sentence. The building had been allowed to go along for three weeks or so, in process of construction and nothing had been said to the builders or owners regarding a failure to comply with the law. This had evidently been taken by the defendant to mean that the buildings were all right.

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth answered that there was no disposition on the part of Mr. Campbell to be lenient with the defendant who, it might be stated, had not secured a permit for either one of the buildings. If it had been a violation in just one instance, there might be some reason for suspending sentence. Added to this, the defendant was a frequent defendant in the Police Court for violating sanitary or building regulations. He was sure to turn up at least once in a fortnight.

Judge Wilcox, in summing up the case, said: "Let me see, one of these buildings fell down the other day, didn't it?" Attorney Brooks answered that that was not the building mentioned in the complaint and Judge Wilcox came up smiling with the reply: "Well, it is a fact—the building mentioned. The only difference is that it has not fallen down. If rain should come and the ground become soft, it is quite likely that this building would also fall down." The defendant was then fined $100 and costs, the specific penalty mentioned in the law, and Attorney Brooks at once gave notice of appeal.

However, the arrest and trial of Pang Chong has done a great deal of good. Outside of making this Chinese builder conform to the building laws by taking out the usual permits, it has sounded a warning to other Asiatic builders who have in contemplation the erection of other buildings in Chinatown.

Marston Campbell was seen after the trial of Pang Chong this morning and he stated that the whole front wall of the building that sent a hailstorm of bricks and purported mortar into the street one morning not long ago, had been ordered torn down. He had also made recommendations to the builders according to the building laws of the State of New York and Pang Chong and his associates had promised to conform with these regulations.

GENERAL CRONJE NEARLY KILLED

Just before the departure of the Kinau for Hilo today, there was an accident which came very near being the end of one of the fine horses of George S. McKenzie's string.

Some of the animals had already been hoisted aboard the steamer in their stalls. Near the side of the vessel was General Cronje with his hands sticking out of the stall.

The next horse to be hoisted up was Rejected, also in a stall. There was a lot of talking on the part of some of the horsemen accompanying the fast horses and from somewhere there came an order to lower away. Rejected and his stall were suddenly lowered and before operations could be stopped the combined weight of horse and stall was resting on poor General Cronje's neck.

Another order was given quickly and the burden was jerked away in time to save the poor animal pinned beneath. A little more and General Cronje would have been a thing of the past.

The horses that left for Hilo in today's Kinau were as follows: General Cronje, Rejected, Socialist, Del Vista, Time Center, Nullah, Mollie Connors and Way Boy, Weller, Violin and Sambo will go in the next Kinau.

GOATS SAY FAREWELL

A stag or rather a "goat" dinner was given at George Angus last night at the Moana Hotel by the members of the Order of Billy Goats as a farewell to the single-handed strife in the world of Angus. Those present were Robt. Shingle, W. F. Dillingham, I. S. Dillingham, Fred Smith, Geo. Potter, Dick Ivers, Geo. Denison, Geo. Baker, Robt. Atkinson, Chas. Kimball and the guest of honor. All at the dinner were members of the Order of Billy Goats, a society which was started a couple of years ago when the party were having a good time at the Dillingham place in Mokuia.

The Angus-Grace nuptials take place this evening.

BLACKMAN WINNER

The final games of the Y. M. C. A. basketball tournament were played in the association gymnasium yesterday afternoon with the result that A. Blackman won the championship after a hard fought battle with M. Johnson.

The game, which for a long while has been postponed from time to time, was looked forward to with considerable interest by those of the Y. M. C. A. members interested in the game.

The match was an interesting one, both Blackman and Johnson being expert players and pretty evenly matched. Both games were very fast and were played with vim and snap and the match lasted from 5:30 till 6:15 p. m. before Blackman had gained the victory.

The score of the first game was 16 to 21 and of the second, 19 to 21. Blackman's name will now be painted on the championship shield and hung with the other trophies of its kind in the row of immortals in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

MAN KILLED ON SONOMA

Sydney, May 27.—The voyage of the mailboat across the Pacific was marked by a fatal accident. Whilst on the run from Pago Pago to Auckland, one of the crew named L. D. Ferguson was caught in the main shaft, and killed. The unfortunate man, it appears, was endeavoring to fake off of the shaft a piece of rope which had become entangled in it, and by some means the rope caught one of his legs, and he was instantly whirled round and round the shaft. The machinery was stopped as quickly as possible, and the unfortunate man released. Upon examination it was found that he had received terrible injuries, his legs, back, and neck being broken, and he only survived for about a quarter of an hour. The body was brought on to Auckland, and buried there.

Boer Leaders Admit the Defeat Complete

London, June 5.—The Times' Pretoria correspondent says the resolution of the Vereeniging Conference authorizing the signing of the terms of surrender, declared that Britain's assistance not to negotiate further but to dictate terms and also the reduced number of Boers in the field, with the impossibility of getting back the prisoners and the necessity for saving the existence of the race, compelled the relinquishment of independence. The Times says the irreconcilables were deprived of all justification by the Boer leaders, who recorded in the clearest terms their recognition that their defeat was complete.

LOWER DUTY ON RICE

Melbourne, June 6.—The Senate has reduced the duty on rice to 5s a cental. It is understood that several cargoes of rice are on the way from the Argentine and California. Mr. Deakin had returns prepared showing that the supplies of fodder in Tasmania, Victoria and South Australia are sufficient to last for some time.
